The following is a brief background of myself, and explains why I am asking for your support to be the Conservative Candidate for Victoria.

My Background

During my eight years in the Navy, I received a BA in Economics and Political Science from Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario, which included two years in Victoria at Royal Roads Military College. I also did an exchange tour of duty in the Royal Navy Submarine Service in Hampshire, England, as well as served as an officer aboard Canadian ships and submarines.

As a Conservative MLA in Nova Scotia from 1978-81, I was the youngest member of that government having been elected at the age of 29.

Having moved to Victoria with my first wife and two children in 1983, except for one year away, I have lived here ever since. While working in the high technology industry for the past 30 years, I have held executive management and leadership positions where I developed and led teams to solve business problems. I have also run my own consulting companies serving private sector and government clients.

The Reform Party of Canada nominated me to be their candidate for Victoria in 1993. I have worked in every federal election since arriving in Victoria, including the successful campaign that elected Pat Crofton as the MP for Saanich–Gulf Islands in 1984. As Stephen Harper’s Campaign Co-Chair for Vancouver Island when he ran for the leadership of the Conservative Party, I was convinced then and continue to believe that he and our party have the vision and ability to solve Canada’s many economic, environmental and social challenges.

To the Future

My wife, Deborah, supports me in my desire to make Victoria and Canada a better place to live. We want to make Victoria an attractive place for new businesses so our young people can remain here after finishing their education. We want Victoria to be their home where they can find a job, raise a family and enjoy a rewarding career, so that they can create wealth for themselves and their community and pay taxes to support government programs. By focusing on creating wealth, collectively we will be able to afford to meet the needs of all our citizens, especially those who are not able to help themselves.

I have a plan to win this riding for the Conservative Party. The National Campaign will provide a solid foundation for our local campaign to build on. I plan to appeal to the interests of the people in Victoria who have looked to the NDP in the past to satisfy their needs, but are disappointed with the NDP’s results. I will provide all voters with a clear vision of the wonderful possibilities we have in Victoria. I ask you to...
